Beaver Coloring Sheet

Beavers used to live along many of Arizona's desert streams and rivers before it went almost extinct in North America. However, the beaver has made a dramatic comeback and can now be found again in Arizona. The beaver is the largest native rodent in North America. It is covered with a thick coat of waterproof fur. Beavers live in areas of dense forest and high mountain meadows where there is abundant water. The map shows the approximate range of the beaver in Arizona.
